FIRE THREATENS 5 TOWNS

TROOPS CALLED OUT TO BATTLE FOREST FLAMES

Heavy Toll Taken in Sweep of Blaze Over Northern Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan—Farmers Are Fleeing to Open Spaces For Safety

DULUTH, Minn. — (Associated Press) — Forest fires are raging over the northern parts of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. Five towns are seriously threatened, one life has been lost, Great Lakes navigation and bus line service are hampered by smoke and thousands of dollars worth of property has been destroyed.

Hundreds of small fires which have been burning for some time united and became a menace as they swept on with renewed vigor under an all-day west wind yesterday.

Late last night Governor Blaine of Wisconsin ordered out the Superior units of the Wisconsin national guard to fight the fire raging thru the state park at Manitowish.

Hundreds of men are back-firing thru heavy brush to try to save the village of Blueberry, a small Douglas community, and Lake Nebagamon also is in jeopardy. Three farms north of Brule have been burned out and all cattle destroyed.

Ononagon, the seat of Ononagon co., is threatened by fires surrounding the village and the town of Green, six miles away, is in danger. Lumbermen estimate sixty square miles already have been burned over. Farmers in that locality, as well as in several in Houghton, Keweenaw and Baraga counties, are moving to open spaces for safety.

Douglas, Ashland, Bayfield and Ironwood cos. in Wisconsin are dotted with flames. Breathing there is described as torture and heavy smoke hangs low over the land. Navigation on Lake Superior has become a serious problem, the smoke covering the water more densely than the heaviest fogs.

Wisconsin Highway number 10 between Ashland and Hurley, has been made impassable by flames and smoke.

BUILDINGS DESTROYED
Near Hurley the entire woods is burning and the whole town of Drummond, west of Ashland, turned out to fight fires. Near Kumball, Ashland co., considerable loss from burning of cut lumber is reported. Brush fires raged between Saxon and Lake Superior. A number of buildings have been destroyed by the fire near the Wisconsin-Michigan boundary between Houghton and Keweenaw. More than a dozen small fires, mostly brush and pest, fanned by high winds, reached serious proportions in all directions from Hibbing, Minn., last night. A large number of men and fire apparatus were rushed to a serious blaze at Little Swan.

Mildred Kofur, three, who wandered into the woods near Mohawk, Mich., was burned to death, was the first person reported killed by the flames.

AGENTS SEEKING "EASY MARKS"

Depreciated Currencies Are Offered, Business Bureau Asserts

Warning of Lima people not to invest their money in German marks or other foreign currencies was issued Thursday from the Better Business Bureau of the Board of Commerce after a number of citizens had presented letters written to them offering them bargains in these depreciated currencies.

According to the letters, the name of the writer of which is being withheld by Secretary J. E. Morton for the present, marks are offered at the rate of 10,000 for one dollar. According to investigation at local banks, the mark is no longer quoted on the market but at last quotation was selling at the rate of several million for a dollar.

LOCAL AGENTS
The marks, and other foreign currencies which are being offered in this city at this time, according to information furnished the Better Business Bureau are put out by a Chicago firm, local people only taking the orders for them. The amount of marks, for example, which are offered are far less than the last market quotations, according to information furnished the bureau.

It appears, according to the bureau's data, that the marks and other foreign monies which are being offered in Lima have all the earmarks of having been printed on American made paper, although the bureau is not making that charge at this time, Secretary Morton said Wednesday. But he warned the people not to buy marks and especially to be careful in buying of those who are sending out "personal" letters to all classes of citizens.

NET SCHOOL GAIN IS 235

South High School Makes Largest Enrollment Gain

Aggregate gain of 235 students over the number enrolled in October, 1922, is shown in the official report submitted Tuesday night to the board of education by Superintendent of Schools J. E. Collins.

Total attendance in the 16 schools is 7,667 in comparison with 7,432 for last year. South High leads with an attendance of 1163, a gain of 64 in the past year. Central High shows a gain of 11 students.

In the elementary schools Whittier holds the record attendance with 707 students, a decrease of 16 students since October of last year. Longfellow school with 130 students is the smallest of the 16 schools.

A gain of 50 students at Emerson school is due to holding pupils at that school thru the fifth year, while the loss at Whittier is due to transfer earlier in October to relieve congestion there.

ENROLLMENT FIGURES
Enrollment by buildings is as follows:

Central High, 990; South High, 1163; Franklin Junior High, 606; Franklin elementary, 248; Fairport, 193; Irving, 474; Garfield, 389; McKinley, 286; Whittier, 707; Washington, 537; Lincoln, 652; Lowell, 402; Horace Mann, 308; Richardson, 163; Emerson, 123; Longfellow, 130.

Schools are congested and the only possible solution is the completion of additions to South High school and Franklin Junior High buildings.

Contractors in a report at the board meeting reported favorable progress on all buildings. Heating and plumbing work is progressing up to expectations and the schools are expected to be ready at the specified time.

In the grade schools the report indicated that there were 35 rooms with a no tardy record. The total number of tardy cases aggregated 134 in comparison with 5,416 pupils neither tardy nor absent.

Steady decrease in the number of truancy cases is shown in that only 21 students took "French Leave" since the opening of school.

"LIAR" CRY MARKS STOKES CASE

Wife Shouts for Witness to Take Statement Back

"I'LL KILL HIM" SHE CRIES

Dramatic Scene is Enacted at Sensational Hearing

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Retrial of the divorce suit of W. E. D. Stokes, wealthy hotel owner, against his wife, Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes today was marked by one of the most dramatic scenes ever seen in court here, when, following an implied grave accusation on the part of a witness, Mrs. Stokes rose in her seat, sobbing, and shouted a denial, while her husband preceptibly began to cry.

Under cross-examination by Samuel Untermyer, chief defense counsel, Elmer Henshaw, former chauffeur for Mrs. Stokes said:

"I was very friendly with Mrs. Stokes," and then added, "I mean just what I said."

"Do you mean to imply —?" asked Mr. Untermyer.

"Yes, I do," answered the witness. At this point Mrs. Stokes' mother, who was sitting beside her daughter, rose, began to wave her hands almost frantically, and shouted:

"THAT'S A LIE"

"That's a lie," Mrs. Stokes, shaking with sobs, arose and shouted:

"That's a lie and she knows it. Make him take that back. He will take that back or I'll kill him."

Stokes, sitting at the defense counsel table, bowed his head and began to cry.

Several court attendants rushed to the side of Mrs. Stokes. They told her she would have to keep quiet or leave the room. Under direction from them her mother changed her seat and sat about ten yards away from her daughter.

"When quiet had been restored, Untermyer asked the witness:

"Did you mean to say you committed adultery with Mrs. Stokes?"

"No. Absolutely not," answered the witness.

"Well, then, did I understand you to say you had improper relations with her?" the lawyer continued.

"Yes I did," said Henshaw. "She was giving me money to frame up Mr. Stokes to give her a divorce."

Mrs. Stokes again rose from her seat and shouted:

"I never gave him a cent in my life."

TED SEES REAL BALL WEATHER

Ted, as he sat on the steps of Jack and Frank's Steak house watching the world's series, play for play on The Lima News board, said he thought it was ideal weather for baseball. He admitted, however, it was a little warm. In fact he got quite hot as he sat in the sun. So after the first inning he hiked to the nearest drug store, purchased himself a lemonade and fan, and then returned to his place in the vast crowd.

Ted was quite happy, for the weather forecast was as follows: Fair Wednesday night and Thursday, slightly warmer toward night. He figured there was little chance of rain interfering with the world's series. "Why go to New York City to watch the games anyhow, so long as I can see every play in Lima?" Ted mused.

Partial payments on contracts for erection of additions to South High school and Franklin school were authorized Tuesday night following favorable reports of construction progress as submitted by contractors in charge of the work.

Contractors attended the board of education meeting and each gave a detailed report of progress, reports indicating that work will be completed in the specified time. While some minor details were reported where progress has been halted temporarily, reports as a whole bore an optimistic outlook.

"Y" WORKERS OUT FOR MEMBERS

Campaign Started Tuesday to Continue Until Friday

Campaign of the Lima Y. M. C. A. to obtain 500 new members in connection with the state-wide contest participated in by ten other cities was inaugurated at a banquet held in the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night.

One hundred men, under the leadership of four division chiefs, will take part in the campaign. Division leaders are Wallace King, Emmett Curtis, Jr., H. W. L. Kidder and Maurice Rosenbloom. Workers have been divided into teams, each team to work under command of a captain.

Luncheon was held at noon Wednesday at which time first reports were received. Goal of the workers is 500 members, which will bring the total membership of the Yma association to 1,000.

Luncheon will also be held Thursday and final reports will be received at a dinner to be held Friday at 6 p. m., and which will last until 7:30 p. m. Workers anticipate little difficulty in getting the required number of new members.

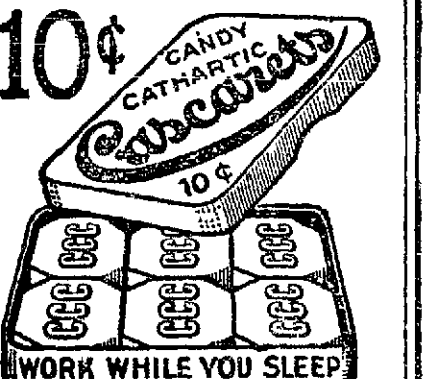

Lima is in competition with the following Ohio cities: Akron, Ashland, Elyria, Mansfield, Marietta, Mt. Vernon, Newark, Palmsville, Steubenville and Zanesville. Winning association will be presented with a handsome silver cup by the Y. M. C. A. college, Chicago. The award will be contested for each year.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Adv.

OIL INDUSTRY IS AGAIN UPSET

California Cut is Cause of Probable Readjustment

Further readjustment in production and prices of crude oil was forecasted yesterday when the Standard Oil Company of California made price cuts ranging from 2 to 25 cents a barrel in California oil at the wells and the Humble Oil and Refining company rearranged its price schedule in a way to reduce high gravity oil 25 cents a barrel in the Texas field.

The new price of high grade California oil now is 76c a barrel. The recent reductions in mid-continent crude oil prices were designed to permit producers in the central fields to compete with California producers at eastern refineries. Now, however, this equilibrium is disturbed and further price cuts in the mid-continent field are expected. The cut in California crude was ascribed to continued over-production coupled with seasonal diminution in consumption of petroleum products.

GET 24 HOURS TO LEAVE TOWN

Few Stowe Negroes Respond to Committee's Ultimatum

POLICE FAIL TO INTERFERE

Murder of Man and Wounding of Girl Prompts Move

PITTSBURG — (Associated Press) — Early this morning a few negroes were reported to have left Stowe during the night following an order given last night by a self-appointed vigilance committee that every negro in the township quit the community within 24 hours. Others were reported as preparing to leave.

According to the police of the township, the action of the committee came as the result of the slaying last Saturday night of Thomas Rowland and the wounding of his granddaughter Edith Colter, by a negro on a lonely hillside. The negro escaped and the police have no tangible clues as to his identity.

Separating into small squads, the vigilance committee, which is said to have numbered more than 200 men, visited all the negro families and the several negro workers' camps in Stowe and quietly issued the warning for each negro to depart. Police estimate the number of negro residents of the township as between 490 and 500.

After completing their self-appointed task the leaders of the committee reported their action to the police authorities, the latter said. Police say they were aware of what the committee was doing but did not interfere as long as there was no violence. The negroes received the order passively and soon after the word began to spread they deserted the streets.

ASKS $170.68 DAMAGES RESULT OF AUTO CRASH

Damages amounting to $170.68 are demanded in a suit filed in common pleas court Wednesday by Walter T. Monbeck of Lima against G. K. Monroe, of Sidney, growing out of an automobile smashup on the Dixie highway south of Sidney, Sept. 9.

Monbeck declares he was driving south on the Dixie highway on the date named and was passed by Monroe, traveling at the rate of about five miles an hour faster than his (Monbeck's) speed.

Monroe, it is alleged, turned sharply across his path and to avoid a collision, Monbeck was forced to turn off the road, hitting a large stone and going into the ditch.

Asserting Monroe is at fault, Monbeck seeks payment for the damage to his car.

NINE COUNTIES IN BANK MEETING

Important Session of Group 2 Set for Next Friday

Every bank in Lima is expected to be represented at the fall meeting of group 2, Ohio Bankers' Association, which will be held at Celina next Friday, local bankers said Wednesday.

There are nine counties in the group. H. O. Jones, cashier of the Old National bank is secretary of the group.

Dr. Jacob Viner of Chicago will give the principal address at the meeting it was announced Wednesday. Bankers here expect the meeting, which is only for bank officials, will be one of the most important the group has held.

One of the principal themes to come up for discussion is the referendum at the November election on the Taft tax law. City Manager C. A. Bingham has been requested by Rep. Robert Taft of Cincinnati to make the plea in behalf of the bill. He will attend if city matters do not interfere, he said recently.

BOARD WANTS AN INTERPRETER

Commerce Body Seeks to Clear up Cigar Box Rates

Efforts are being made by the traffic bureau of the Board of Commerce to get an interpretation of the freight rates on cigar box lumber from Mobile, Ala., to Lima which will save the local manufacturers of cigar boxes several hundred dollars on their shipments of lumber, according to Manager John S. Link of the traffic bureau.

It appears that prior to the 10 per cent reduction in freight rates in 1922 the tariff on cigar box lumber was 48 1-2 cents per 100 pounds from Mobile to Lima. Where gum lumber was shipped the rate was one cent less.

When the 10 per cent decrease was made effective the railroads instead of taking the 10 per cent off the rate and then taking off the one penny for gum lumber have according to Link, deducted the one cent and then taken the 10 per cent off that.

According to Link, under the railroad figuring the local cigar box makers will pay about a cent a hundred more than they would under the interpretation which the traffic bureau of the board of Commerce gives to the rule. Link has the matter under adjustment with the traffic department of the railroads involved, he said Tuesday.

PRINCIPLES OF LABOR

CONSERVATIVE policies are being adhered to at the convention of the American Federation of Labor at Portland, Ore. The platform of Samuel Gompers, the great leader of organized labor, is being followed and radicalism is meeting with a stern rebuff wherever it appears.

An illustration of this tendency is shown in remarks of Major George L. Berry, president of the International Pressmen's union. He said on the convention floor:

"We of the American Federation of Labor stand for four great principles governing industry. These are the ownership of property, an adequate return on investments, an adequate sum allowed industry for deterioration, and that all workers, including the managers, get proper compensation for what they put into industry."

That platform strikes us as being a sensible one; a set of principles to which every worker and every employer can subscribe for the general welfare of our country. Such a platform, if followed, would do more to end strife between employee and employer than anything ever expressed.

Even with the application of this doctrine, there would be some disputes between workers and employers as to what is adequate compensation. There would be instances where one or the other would try to "hog" returns, but in the main it would work toward tranquillity and a better understanding.

Both labor and capital are learning much as years roll by. They are understanding more and more that one is essential to the other and that fair dealing on both sides must be evident if the best results are to be obtained.

This is demonstrated on the one side by the activity of labor in recent years. It is conducting its own banks, its own mercantile establishments and in some cases, its own factories with favorable results. On the side of capital, it is shown by the increasing admission of workers into the ownership of the enterprise where they enjoy a return from the labors other than their stipulated wage.

With these conditions existing and becoming more general, the outlook for the future is encouraging. Labor will do well to adhere to the policies of its great little chief and keep an eye to progress which is certain to be maintained by the conservative policies he is sponsoring.

STRONG MEN

WHY marvel at the engineering skill and power displayed by the ancient Egyptians in moving the big stones for the pyramids? In Chicago the other day they moved a seven-story building 35 feet, in widening a street. The building weighs 15 million pounds.

While the movers were transporting the big structure at the rate of four feet an hour, its elevators continued operating, and running water, telephone and electric service were maintained as usual.

"Some job!" will be the average man's comment. And he's right.

DEAD men helped move the big building in Chicago, for probably nine-tenths of the mechanical "tricks" employed in the moving were worked out by former generations, long since gone back to the dust.

The inventors of the lifting jack, the principle of rollers, ropes, cables, block and tackle and windlass—all these inventors helped move the Chicago building. So did many other men—including the creators of the steam engine and the patient intellects that slowly trained men to work together in big undertakings.

Without all these forerunners, the Chicago building couldn't have been moved an inch.

ECONOMISTS have an expression, "the dead hand"—the process of men continuing their work in this life, long after their death, by their discoveries and accomplishments which they bequeath to generations that follow them.

The principle of "the dead hand" operates all thru our daily lives. We puff with vanity as we observe our accomplishments and modestly admit that we're the mightiest generation ever. But we're really the harvesters of the effort of the many generations of the past. They sowed the seed for us, as we are doing for the future.

The rumor that Jack Dempsey has signed to fight the world's series winner is probably untrue.

Actors who swiped a copyrighted vaudeville skit and used it in Georgia was caught in the act.

COMPLETE BREAKDOWN

Something was the matter with the old bus. She would start humming, and behave decently in low and intermediate, but as soon as the driver slipped into high she began to grumble and limp. Just couldn't get going. Felt as though she had lost her false teeth or contracted locomotor ataxia. Dragged her freight slowly and painfully down to the service station. Shop foreman took the history and shook his head. He opined, from the history, that her crankshaft bearings were burnt out. Still he wasn't sure. He got in and drove her around the block, shifting gears, starting, stopping, accelerating, braking, returned to the shop and shook his head some more. Put a mechanic underneath to look for loose bolts in the universals or maybe it was broken cogs in the pinion gear. Anyway the mechanic could find nothing wrong. Well, they fussed around and made three or four alarming tentative diagnoses, until finally a boy hanging around the place called the driver's attention to the fact that his left rear tire was flat.

A complete breakdown, particularly the sort the victim likes to hear called "nervous" breakdown, is very similar to the breakdown of that bus. It means simply and invariably that the mechanic is a little wobbly in his diagnostic skill and, not knowing just what is the matter, must save his face by making a tentative diagnosis of nervous breakdown or just complete breakdown from overwork or business strain. We all like to kid ourselves about our "work." A tentative diagnosis is sometimes called a guarded diagnosis. It is one offered subject to change without notice. The tentative diagnosis is very handy in the earlier bulletins from the bedside of the great. "A slight cold" is an admirable one which may be transmuted into almost any actual disease the patient may prove to have. "Slight ptomaine poisoning" or "slight attack of indigestion" is a convenient tentative diagnosis in cases of dilation of a diseased heart. As long as the notion of nerve tonics prevails, as long as the laity cherishes the idea that the nerve centers or nervous system or nerves produce energy and become "exhausted" if business, social or domestic demands are heavy, so long will nervous breakdown remain popular. I regret to say that these erroneous ideas are still exploited.

Real specialists in all fields are a godsend. Every good doctor avails himself of the aid of specialists in various branches of practice, urges the advisability of such special aid for his patients. The legitimate field of the specialist in diseases of the nervous system embraces very few of the conditions masked by these soothing terms.

THIS LITTLE WORLD

CHICAGO

(BY GEORGE BRITT)
CHICAGO — (Special) — "It isn't by any means the worst picture here," says critics at the exhibition of the Chicago No-

Jury Society of Artists of a "fourth-dimensional" portrait by Bruce Grant.

Which makes the story all the better. Grant, a newspaper writer, was visiting a friend's studio when talk drifted to the coming exhibition.

Grant seized a handful of brushes and cornered all the paint in the studio. For half an hour there was vigorous swishing and splashing. The product is a gorgeous sunset of face and background, a rose sprouting at the ear of the subject and a green cabbage in his hand. As advanced art it is at least "fourth-dimensional," a new school as well as a new artist.

It may be merely "not the worst" as to technique. It is certainly at the top in that quality called "arresting." Not the least of the jokes in its making was the fixing of a solemn list price of $300 for it. And it may be bought! Who knows?

Anyone with a picture and $4 could exhibit in the no-jury show. There was no jury on selection to exclude offerings which did not conform to styles or standards. Amateurs represented include a printer, a woman physician and several business men.

"The surprising feature is that so few pictures are really bad," says Charles Biesel, secretary of the no-jury artists.

JUST FOLKS

By Edgar A. Guest

AUTUMN
I wondered all the summer long about a certain tree. It was a frail and twisted thing, and poor it seemed to be. Its handsome brothers jeered at it. The shapely maples sneered at it. And towered above it in their pride and winked their eyes in scorn. I fancied I could hear them say: "That useless tree is in the way; 'Twere better for the woods we rule if it had not been born." It lived, and yet it had no grace—I wondered why it grew. The weakest brother of its race, despised and lonely, too. And oft I thought: "This lovely scene Were fairer if that tree had been Cut down, so men would never know or see its sorry state. That twisted trunk, those branches bare, Destroy the landscape's splendor there; It is the beggar of the clan before the palace gate." And like the beggar, day by day I fancied I could hear it plead: "Alms! Alms of drink and food I beg. Pray give to one in need." But trees, like men, when they are strong Forget the weak and pass along; That ill-shaped tree in leafy rags no touch of friendship found. I watched it struggling to survive, At times I thought it scarce alive, But still it weathered storm and gale when mightier trees were down. Now autumn with its matchless paints has visited once more And, strange to tell, in scarlet stands the beggar at the door. That poor and twisted, helpless tree Which once was pitiful to see, Lends splendor to the distant scene, the fairest of the fair. And I who was a doubting man, Now see the purpose of the plan And understand that twisted tree and why God placed it there. (Copyright, 1923)

WOMAN'S HEALTH RESTORED

She Claims Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did It All. Everything Else Failed.

Milwaukee, Wisconsin.—"I feel that I ought to let you know about my case. I was ailing and could barely do my housework and was so run-down, just from having a child. I took a lot of medicines and had doctors. Then I got them all up and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I feel wonderfully good now. I do everything that comes along, and we all use your medicine as a tonic when we don't feel just so. I am thankful for what the Vegetable Compound has done for my health and for my family."—Mrs. MARY SARGENT, 944 23rd Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Letters like these testify to the value of the Vegetable Compound. Women speak from the fullness of their hearts. They describe as correctly as they can their conditions: First, these symptoms that affected them most conspicuously; and later the disappearance of those symptoms. They are expressions of gratitude. For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been so praised by women.

HOSPITAL IS GIVEN CLEAN BILL

Investigator Reports on Epileptic Institution at Gallipolis

OFFICIALS ARE EXONERATED

Charges of Inefficiency and Brutality Probed

COLUMBUS—(United Press.)—Governor Donahay had before him today a report from H. J. Burton, investigator, in which the state hospital for epileptics at Gallipolis is given a clean bill of health.

Burton investigated the institution for Donahay after repeated rumors and affidavits had come to the governor's attention, alleging inefficiency on the part of Dr. G. G. Kinson, superintendent, and misconduct and brutality on the part of E. J. Wilson, an attendant.

Both officials are completely exonerated by Burton, who says he visited the hospital incognito and talked to many inmates and attendants as well as "reliable citizens of Gallipolis."

CAUSE DEATH

In the case of the death of Glenn Ruhl, of Alliance, an inmate, Burton reports that the youth died of epilepsy after having 56 repeated attacks. Because the boy's body was horribly bruised when it arrived home, rumors that he had met his death by violence became widespread.

The investigator further alleges that, according to Burton, who quotes attendants, a physician, and the Meigs co. coroner, Burton, in clearing Kinson and Wilson of criticism, quotes attendants, inmates and townspeople, who he says, prized the man highly.

The investigator further alleges the criticisms to be the result of spite and disgruntled employees. A letter from Attorney General Crabbe is quoted which informed the attorney for the complainants that the welfare department blocked every move for an investigation.

TAKES HIM TOO LONG

Complaint against the watchman at Elizabeth and West-sts. leaving down the gates for about 20 minutes each night while he puts on red lights was filed at headquarters by Officer Houts. The report stated this occurrence is nightly and that traffic is held up while the watchman takes his time placing lanterns.

GOVERNMENT HELP FOR WHEAT GROWERS URGED BY FARM COUNCIL CHIEF

CLEVELAND—"Billions of dollars of farm mortgages, the hard earned dollars of city workers are a perilous investment because the wheat growers' dollar has shrunk to about fifty cents, and his taxes, interest and expenses are just what they used to be or more. Benjamin C. Marsh, managing director of the Farmers' National Council of Washington, D. C., said in a statement on his way to the national capital after a three months speaking trip in fourteen wheat and cotton growing states.

"Bank examiners in several western states are not strictly enforcing banking laws, because they don't want to close any more banks," Marsh continued. "There is only one way out and that is for the government to help farmers thru a government marketing corporation, to get a fair price for their products till they can pay off their debts in the same dollars in which they were contracted. Any other course is dishonest, and extending more credit is merely indirect dishonesty."

$25,000 VERDICT UPHeld BY COURT OF APPEALS

Clark McDonald, former yard clerk for the Pennsylvania railroad, was sustained by the court of appeals late Tuesday in his fight for damages received in an accident. The court affirmed a $25,000 verdict awarded by a common pleas court July in November 1932.

McDonald, who lives at 702-1-2 S. Main-st, lost the sight of one eye and was crushed about the face while working for the railroad. This is the second time he has appeared before the court of appeals, that body reversing a former verdict of $23,691.50 and later being sustained by the supreme court.

LOYD GEORGE MAY LAY CORNERSTONE AT CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND—Efforts are being made to have David Lloyd George lay the cornerstone of Cleveland's $5,000,000 public library when he visits this city October 23. The ceremony was originally set for October 25, but the date was moved up so that the former British prime minister may officiate.

Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, will head a committee that will receive Lloyd George upon his arrival.

Plans have been made for special trains to carry members of Welsh societies from Detroit, Cincinnati, Toledo and other cities of Ohio to greet their former countryman at a reception.

STUDY MANNERS AT CENTRAL

Vocational guidance work was started last year by Prof. R. E. Offenhauer. The purpose of the work is to help the student find his life work.

A called meeting of the girl's welfare league was held Tuesday afternoon to arrange for the sale of candy at the home football games. Every year the club gets funds for its philanthropic work thru this source and it is expected that this year much good will be brought about by the sale of candy.

Applications for membership in the H-Y club will be taken up at a meeting Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Robert King will preside.

CHARGES OF CRABBE ANSWERED BY DONAHAY

COLUMBUS—Alleged insinuations by Attorney General C. C. Crabbe that the state secretary's department is dominated by the R. L. Dollings Co., brought forth from Governor Donahay, in a statement last night, the assertion that the attorney general is "scawwaging."

Pointing out that the attorney general has declared that the department has been crookedly controlled by the Dollings Co. for 10 years, the governor set forth in his statement that "ten years includes the Republican administrations of Governors Willis and Davis." The governor emphasized that no Dollings stock was certified after his appointee took charge of the securities department.

It was pointed out by the governor that "there are on record in the department 1,600 refusals and revocations of stock, 1,200 of which took place during my administration."

Both are to be arraigned in criminal court as soon as Judge Neil R. Poling recovers from his illness which has kept him away from the bench for two days.

get these things for relief CAN be had. For instance, this simple, herbal medicine, Plant Juice, has relieved thousands in this city and section.

Just recently, Mrs. A. L. Parker, popular and well known lady of Fort Wayne, Ind., living at 1804 Hillside avenue, Fort Wayne, called on The Plant Juice Man and said:

"I feel that I am in a position to recommend Plant Juice to everybody. For two years I had suffered from a bad stomach, shortness of breath and hot flashes and felt tired and worn out all the time. I was continually constipated; complexion was sallow and I lost a great deal of weight. At times, my back and head ached something awful. I was getting terrible discouraged about my condition for I had taken many different medicines and treatments and it seemed that nothing would help me.

"I have now taken a full course of your Plant Juice medicine and the change in my condition is wonderful. In fact, my friends are all remarking about how much better I look now. My complexion has cleared up. I can eat the heaviest kind of foods without attacks of gas afterward and I have gained 16 pounds. I never have the headache, backache or those hot flashes now and my bowels are regular. In short, I am enjoying splendid health and can recommend your Plant Juice to anybody."

Plant Juice is sold in Lima at Hunter's drug stores at 49 Public Square and Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office.

You see gleaming teeth wherever you look today. They add enormously to beauty and to charm. Learn how people get them.

That dingy film

Your teeth are coated by a viscous film. You can feel it now. Under old brushing methods, much of it clings and stays. Soon it becomes discolored, then forms dingy coats. That is why so many teeth lose lustre.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

That is why cloudy teeth, unhealthy teeth and gums, become so alarmingly common.

Dental science has now found ways to effectively fight that film. One disintegrates the film at all stages of formation. The other removes it without harmful scraping.

Many careful tests were made to prove these methods. Then a new-type tooth paste was created to apply them daily. The name is Pepsodent.

Leading dentists everywhere began to urge its use. Now it has brought a new dental era to the homes of some 50 nations.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

AM coming to you for advice. I am 13 years old and am in the seventh grade. But people who do not know me, think I am 16 or 17 years old. I have been going with the boys and girls for about a year but my folks do not allow me to go with boys because they think I am too young. But I go with them when I am alone. I have a girl friend whose parents are the same as mine. So we have always been around with each other. Now, parents object to my running around with them. When I heard this I stopped going around and stay home much more than I used to. People tell me I am a girl and I am running around with the boys but we are my mother and her mother will believe us. So we are starting to go around again. But people do not anything to our folks. We know we are doing wrong. Shall we continue to go with friends without our parents' consent? I am too young to wear long dresses? What are the meanings of the following names: Bill, Harry, Mary, Dennis, Mick?

(Thanking you for your letter, we call.)

MY dears, aren't you completely worn out from "running around" so much? By all means, stop going around with the boys. I agree with the mothers of the two girls and yet I can't help but tell you that your mothers should know better than you are going with boys and are you spending your time. However, obey your parents and forget boys for several years yet. Is 12 or 13 years of age are certainly too young to be worrying about such matters as you are.

Bill comes from William, which is a protector; Harry means the chief of a house; Dennis means "belonging to Bacchus, the wine. Mike comes from Michael, which means "Who is like God." Mary means bitter.

wish you had asked me about spelling and writing as others. From your letter, I see that you are paying entirely too little attention to your school work. Your English is bad, your spelling poor and your writing no more than legible. I am all this criticism in a kindly way, one of you Micks, but why don't you try to improve in your school work?

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

A man stationed there whirled about, thinking the car was running wild, and scrambled for safety. He was just in time. Through the hedge they smashed; then, with a bump and a lunge, leaped the trench which had been dug for the wall's new foundation, and with a deft twist of the wheel swung into the road beyond.

There had been no sound behind them. Their sudden action, the dashing of it, seemed to paralyze the two spectators. Then there came a loud, angry scream. Kelsey, glancing back, saw Anita Copley flying down the veranda steps, calling for the chauffeur, and shouting orders as she ran.

CHAPTER XV

Charlie plodded along the oil-soaked highway following those elusive tire-tracks. The June afternoon which in his leafy tree-top had seemed a forlorn hope of heaven, out here on the reeking road was—well, it was hot.

Charlie swore himself finally to a garage about three miles down the road. There, leading up to the gasoline reservoir and plump in front of the place where four tire tracks, three smooth and one corrugated, which he had lost for the last half mile in the cross-hatchings of traffic.

As he pushed his motorcycle in at the door of the garage, the first thing he saw was the flivver shoved back against the wall. No possibility of a mistake, with those tell-tale tires, and the license-plate, No. 2,155,633, staring him in the face.

As Charlie explained the difficulty with his motorcycle he took quick stock of the man from the dened derby hat on his head to the soles of his spattered shoes.

So far his sole response to Charlie's story of hard luck—certain details modified—had been an indifferent grunt.

To Charlie impassivity was always a challenge. Wooden stares and borted up silences were spurs to his indignity.

So as his tongue wagged on in the recital of his adventures he was thinking. The one infallible appeal to an automobile man was the chance to make a sale and pocket a comfortable commission.

Charlie had already represented himself as a canvasser taking orders for "put-it-together-yourself" furniture; and he now deftly turned to an account of his fictitious tribulations in this calling.

"What I need," he said, "is half a dozen or so different lines of household necessities. I'd be sure to catch 'em somewhere along the line."

"But the trouble with that," he pulled at his lip, "is, that I'd have to carry such a raft of samples. I've been wondering if it wouldn't pay me to chuck the old motor-cycle, and buy me a nice little car that I could load up with my stuff."

The gleam of venal interest he had anticipated, brightened the garage-keeper's dull eye, and for the first time he unbent to articulate speech.

"Sure looks like good business to me," he agreed. "An' 'twouldn't cost you no more to run a car than it does your motor-cycle."

"Except for the first expense," said Charlie. "No, I don't suppose it would. And I wouldn't want a great, big, high-powered car, you understand, but a nice little car, you know."

THINKING THE CAR WAS RUNNING WILD, HE SCRAMBLED FOR SAFETY.

"His eye fell as if by chance on the flivver. 'Now there's a little brick that would suit me first rate. Doesn't happen to be for sale, does it?'"

"Shouldn't wonder," the garage man led the way toward it, and threw back the hood for inspection.

"You know the party that owns it, then?" Charlie could hardly keep the thrill of eagerness out of his voice.

"Oh, yes; best of friends. Whatever I say, he'll stand for."

"Wonder if I'm acquainted with him? I know quite a number of people around here."

"Well, you might call it bein' acquainted," with heavy jocularity; "seem that you're talkin' to him right now. I'm the owner of this bus, Captain."

"Course she ain't her prettiest," apologized. "She's just in off the road; and, with this lie all over everything, she's kind of spattered up. Couple strangers come in here with a big touring car that they said wasn't hittin' right, and asked me if I could let

'em have a machine to go over White Plains way, while their'n was bein' fixed. So I rented 'em the little boat. But, shucks, they might as well have used their own; there wasn't nothin' wrong with it that I could see, 'cept a loose bolt or two."

Charlie recognized with a sense of utter frustration that it was useless to probe further. All he could get was a description of the two men so vague that it would fit a million others, and a lack of any identifying details for the car.

"Wait now," the garage-keeper was saying, "till I turn over the engine for you, and then you can see for yourself that I ain't misstated nothin' to you. Come here, Sam, and crank her up for me."

But as Sam shambled around to the front of the flivver, and Charlie and the proprietor leaned over to watch the test, they were interrupted by a hail from the doorway. A party of people in a touring car had just driven up, and were making signals of distress. The garage man relapsed into his professional phlegm.

"Hold on a minute," he said. "I gotta see what these pests want. Then I'll be back."

Charlie leaned back against the wheel of the flivver, and while he waited rolled a cigarette. He gave a little gesture of impotence, and scattered the tobacco he was rolling to the floor.

With a muttered imprecation at his awkwardness, he reached for his sack; and as he did so, saw the garage man complete his examination of the car at the door, and shake his head at the owner.

"This here is a job that's going to take a couple of hours," he announced; "and you can't go on in the shape you're in, gears all pulled loose. You folks 'll just have to pile out and stick around, till I get it fixed up."

There were protests, exclamations, remonstrances; but the garage man was firm, and in the end the party, four women and two men besides the driver, with American good humor under trying circumstances, got out of the car and the proprietor and Sam rolled it into the shop.

Regarding this as a good opportunity to get away, Charlie called to the garage keeper that he would be back presently and started for the door. Without looking at the group of stranded motorists, he pushed his motor-cycle past them, when he was stopped by a high-pitched, faintly familiar voice calling:

"Oh, how'd it go?"

He looked up to see a pretty girl in futuristically vivid sport things moving toward him.

For a moment he was puzzled, and then he remembered her as the stranded Princess of the smart little millinery shop where he and Ranger had bought the hat.

"Juliet!" he exclaimed, sweeping off his hat. "To think that you remembered me after all these years!"

"How could I forget the man who ordered that—that lid!" Laughter struggled with staccatoe repose and wou. "Oh, you men! You're a scream when it comes to millinery. Too bad," her charming mouth drawn down, her eyes full of mocking commiseration, "that your lady friend didn't like the hat."

At her words, a splinter of lightning went thru Charlie and shivered along his spine. In the black, boggy depths of his slough of despond there flashed a ray of hope.

CHAPTER XVI

In the twinkling of an eye the humble canvasser of "put-it-together-yourself" furniture became without change of costume or stage properties the sophisticated, world-worn man of affairs.

"She didn't like the hat?" he repeated, lifting his shoulders and eyebrows at the same time. "Capricious, capricious creatures, you women."

The Princess laughed, but looked at him doubtfully.

"You're such a kiddie," she said, "I don't quite make you."

"Fancy meeting you here, a flattering touch of sentiment in his smile; 'partners in hard luck, one might say, both victims of a breakdown. Bless the breakdown,' with a light fervor. 'When I had mine I was hurrying back to a board-meeting from my friend Loring Ranger's place over yonder.'

She gave the start he expected. That name was too familiar to readers of newspapers to escape notice.

"You mean the father of Hope Ranger?" She showed all the blueness of her widened eyes.

"Yes; poor Lorry!" He was not acting now.

"Oh!" With an inflation of her best great-lady manner, she turned to her friends. "I want all you folks to meet Mr.—"

"Juarez," Charlie suavely helped her out.

"Surely! Mr. Juarez shake hands with Mr. and Mrs. Greenberg," motioning to the driver of the car and his wife. "Mr. Juarez, Miss Schupp, Miss McCarthy, Mr. Dave Greenberg, and Mr. Leffler," she ran thru the circle. "Mr. Juarez is just back from a visit to the father of Hope Ranger."

Mr. and Mrs. Greenberg, Mr. Dave Greenberg, Miss Schupp, Miss McCarthy and Mr. Leffler immediately became animated interrogation points.

Charlie answered guardedly, with the air of one who could tell a great deal but whose lips were for the moment sealed.

LETTER FROM ABRAM EINSTEIN TO JACOB BLOOM
MY DEAR JAKE:

Of course you know by this time what a ten strike that little girl stole away from you has made. I was sorry I couldn't get on to New York for her opening there but we are putting in a new production for her immediately.

You have to work fast with these young women if you want to get the money out of them. The public soon gets tired of even the best of them and they have only a few years to make good.

I think perhaps that with Paula things will be a little bit different as she is very far from being a dumb-bell like the most of them and she has a very great sense of gratitude toward yours truly, and I am sure that she won't get off my lot the moment some other moving picture pirate offers her ten dollars more a week.

Don't think I haven't a contract with her because I say this. I have, my boy, but you know how much good a contract is to anyone when someone really wants to break it. I don't think, however, that little Paula will break any contract. The only time she seems happy is when she is on one of the sets going through her part. So far she seems very grateful to me.

She certainly is a bear for work. Of course everybody thinks she is 'Abey Einstein's sweetie,' but they are all mistaken. Jake, every one of them. She treats me as though I was her daddy and between you and I, she has got them all guessing, including myself.

It's only once in a while that anybody can get her away from her very grateful to me.

YANK CRIPPLES WILL PLAY IN FIRST GAME OF SERIES

Intensive Training Marks Work Of Squads In Preparation For Coming Games

NATIONAL LEAGUE ACE THINKS PENNOCK WILL BEAT GIANTS

(BY ADOLFO LUQUE)
Leading Pitcher of the National League

His will be a tight world series.

I wouldn't be surprised to see the Yankees beat the Giants.

Here's how I figure it: The Yankees have better pitching than the Giants.

The Giants have a better hitting team than the Yankees and one that is faster.

John Scott and Jack Bentley, I believe, are the best pitching bets the Giants have to send against the Yankees.

I hardly think John Watson, Harry McQuillan or Art Nehf can beat Babe Ruth & Co.

By a tight series, I don't mean I look for a seven-game series.

I really look for it to end in about five games, six at the most, but that the games will be close.

Rosy Ryan is likely to do some good pitching for the Giants but I hardly believe McGraw will start him in a game. I think Ryan will be used for relief purposes and in that role do like Jess Barnes did a couple of years ago when he was the pitching hero of the series, but did not start a game.

McGraw probably will start off with Bentley or Scott. Huggins, I think, will lead off with Herb Pennock or Sam Jones.

Pennock is likely to beat the Giants, who are none too strong against a good southpaw. The Yankees would have given the Giants more of a battle in the last two world series had Huggins had a good left-hander to send against them.

Hug knew this then. That's why he went out and got Pennock.

If Huggins doesn't open up with Pennock I think he'll start off with Sam Jones. Sam has pitched wonderful ball for the Yankees this year. He and Pennock are liable to win their games. Pennock is likely to start two games, with Hoyt and Bush or Shawkey starting one each.

Also the Giants hit a little harder than the Yankees, the American League champions can, I believe, hit McGraw's pitchers hard enough to win behind the pitching they will get from Pennock, Jones, Hoyt, Bush and Shawkey.

The speed of the Giant infield, together with Kelly's great reach, which makes it almost impossible to throw a ball by him, is going to be a great help to McGraw's pitchers. So is Ross Young, who is lots faster than any outfielder the Yankees have.

But the pitching of the American

St. Rose Gets Back Into League

St. Rose has been reinstated into Ohio High school athletic association. The school was compelled to withdraw its membership last spring, because of having played a non-member in the basketball league.

Now being in the good graces of the association, a game will be booked with Lafayette H. to be played in Lima some time in February.

Ohio Boxing Commish To Meet

The annual meeting of the Ohio State association of boxing commissioners, will be held at Zanesville, Ohio, Monday, October 15. Frank Callahan, secretary of the local commission, was delegated by that board Tuesday evening, to attend as representative from Lima.

The commission met Tuesday evening, with H. T. Sharp, chairman; Frank Hume, Pinkey Clark, D. Huber and Frank Callahan present. There were no applications for boxing licenses received.

Leaguers is so good I can't see how the Giants are going to win unless they play a better brand of ball than they have shown in the National League this year.

I only wish things had broken a little differently and that my club, the Cincinnati Reds, was going into the series against the Yankees instead of the Giants.

If we were to play the Yankees with our full ball club in line (and it wasn't thru the home stretch of the National League season when we had a grand chance to cop the pennant) I would feel certain of the world championship remaining in our league, because the Reds, when not crippled, have more strength in every department than any other club in baseball. I think we showed this several times this year.

I'm pulling for the Giants to come thru and cop, but I doubt if they can.

Hardest Game For Central Hi Coming

The hardest game of the season just a few days off, Central high gridders buckled down to work Tuesday night showing an earnestness and determination that has not been seen this year.

Findlay, boasting of one of the strongest intercholastic teams in this section of the state, comes here to battle with the Big Red and the locals are anxious to knock them off and add to their rapidly growing list of victories.

After "taking it easy" Monday evening the uptown lads set to work Tuesday to iron out the various inaccuracies. Coach Thelbert will spend much time on his offensive game which failed to show strong until the Sidney game, last Saturday.

Hitting the dummy, grueling workout on the bucking machine B. & O. team won three straight games; Solars accomplishing same result against Ohio Powers. In the latter game Miller suited for Summers and Graham, and Hedges for Bullock and Campbell for Parr.

Wednesday evening a long scrimmage together with a session on the dummy is expected to very nearly put the Red and Green into shape for the coming fray.

Wapak to Play Locals Here Sunday

The chances are that it will not be such an easy game between the locals and Wapak which plays at Murphy's grounds Sunday, as it was with Delphos. The trouble with Delphos seemed to be in over estimating the pitching ability of Brown. Wapak will not make this mistake. It is understood that they continue to strengthen their team, not alone with pitchers but with minor leaguers filling other weak places of the team.

With Pittinger and the rest of minor league players, it will require a strong team to get on the winning side of the score against Lima. "Lefty" Houtz, is an old leaguer, however, foxy; knows what is best to do under any and all circumstances and can be depended on to do it.

There is a good deal of interest manifested in these games, and with favorable weather, there is sure to be a large crowd in attendance.

Demetral To Wrestle At Orpheum

All arrangements have been made by M. Charleson, wrestling impresario, for a match, at the Orpheum theatre, next Tuesday night between the famous wrestler, M. Demetral, who claims title of light-heavyweight and Carl Anderson, most logical contender. This will be one of a series of matches which will be given from time to time, as was explained in The Lima News of last Sunday.

From the standpoint that Charleson is an experienced manager, having handled many champions and near champions, and the assurance that he will place none but the very best grapplers in the country before sport fans of Lima, should be agreeable news to every body who likes this class of sport.

KEITH DE VOE STAR FULLBACK

Keith DeVoe is a Lima boy. He learned the rudiments of the game with Central Hi, graduating from that school in the '22 class. It is rare that such distinguished playing as has marked this young man's performances happens with any college youngsters. It is high honors to him, when Fielding H. Yost, distinguished coach, expresses himself in declaring DeVoe the best fullback Ohio State ever had.

(STATEMENTS OF MANAGERS)

JOHN MCGRAW, manager of the Giants:—"Our team this year is as good as it was last year. The pitchers are a little bit better, I believe. We have a strong attack and a good defense. The breaks mean everything in a short series and while I am confident I want the Giants to realize that they have a fight and they do."

MILLER HUGGINS, manager of the Yankees:—"We are much stronger than we were last year. The Giants caught us in a slump last fall and we never came out of it. With our pitching staff and with a most formidable batting team, I feel sure that we have more than an even chance to win. We will have no alibis if we lose."

Woman Jockey Will Ride In Race

NEW MARKET, England—(Associated Press)—For the first time in the history of English racing a woman jockey is to ride in a race here Wednesday. Miss Betty Tanner, 23, the daughter of a prominent breeder, is to have the mount on the favorite in the running of the New Market town plate over a four-mile course.

butcher, a tailor and an electrician. Miss Tanner, well known in New Market as a fearless horsewoman, rode astride.

Chicago Teams Start City Series

CHICAGO — Chicago's American and National League baseball clubs start their twelfth city series today at Cubs' park. The National Leaguers were victorious last year for the first time since 1911 and are favored to win this year. A crowd of approximately 33,000 is promised for today's game.

FOLLOWING THE GRIDDER

WOOSTER — (Special to Lima News) — Coach L. C. Boles will take a squad of twenty-two players to Westerville Saturday for the opening conference game with Otterbein. Most of the regulars are in good shape for the fray. Otterbein's forward pass attack is greatly feared by Wooster. In addition the work of Anderson in hitting the Defiance line last week indicates that Wooster's line will have plenty to do.

Gabriel, injured before the Ashland game, is out this week and altho he has not been taking part in the scrimmages may be able to take his turn at the pivot position. Mollet, who played center against Ashland is going strong.

The regular backfield has had a rather easy week, with the rest of the squad has been driven full tilt. Coach Boles has been giving some of the most promising backs a chance to show their wares in practices with the Fresh and the scrub. Some of these men have been showing up well and may start against Otterbein, Saturday.

OHIO STATE-COLGATE GAME

COLUMBUS, O.—Eyes of the east as well as the middle west will be focussed on the Ohio stadium next Saturday when Ohio State plays host to Colgate in one of the important inter-sectional struggles of the year.

It will be the first time since 1911 and 1912 that Ohio State has matched its strength with an eastern eleven. In the former year it bowed to Syracuse in a tight contest which the Orange eleven won by the score of 6 to nothing. In 1912 Ohio State was defeated by Penn State in the now historic game which was for the Buckeyes.

COLGATE FIGURES BEST

Figures furnished by Colgate show that the visitors will have an advantage of 10 pounds per man on the line and a margin of 12 pounds per man in the backfield. The Ohio State forward wall averages 180 pounds while Colgate registers at 190. The Colgate backfield averages 173 pounds to 161 for Ohio State. With an increasing demand for tickets for the Colgate game, Ohio State athletic officials are congratulating themselves for scheduling the eastern eleven. Interest in this contest is practically on a par with that for the important engagement with Iowa's champion team here later in the month.

While the percentage table indicates that Colgate lost a good share of its games last year, it was one of the strong eastern elevens. From all indications it is one of the strongest teams in the country this fall.

Coach Harlow has a number of great players on his maroon squad, chief among them being Haliback Tryon, Captain Leonard, at tackle, and guard Welsh. All three were picked last fall on All-Eastern elevens, while Welsh, who has been saved for the Ohio State game, was the choice of some writers for an All-American berth.

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED

Because the colors of the two schools are somewhat alike, Colgate will wear blue jerseys for the game instead of the traditional maroon which in the heat of battle is hard to distinguish from the Buckeye scarlet.

Many Colgate alumni from all parts of the middle west plan to attend the game. Colgate students also are said to be planning to follow the team in force.

The Ohio State game will be Colgate's second invasion of the middle west. In 1916 the maroon squad journeyed to Illinois where it defeated a powerful Illini eleven in a thrilling battle. The Baptists that year had such stars as Gillo and West on the team.

The impending game means much to both teams. Ohio State, still in the development stage, faces titanic struggles with Michigan and Iowa on the following two Saturday afternoons. Colgate, out for a great year, will enter the game with all the hopes of the east on its shoulder.

From this distance it looks like a great game.

In Squared Circle

(By Associated Press.) KENTON.—Jimmie Muche, of Youngstown, won technical knock-out over Foss Faudree, Springfield, in fifth round of their bout.

ZANESVILLE.—Johnny Gil, York, Pa., won decision over Kid Doyle, London, England, in 12 rounds.

COLUMBUS.—Kayo Jeskie, Toledo lightweight, won judges' decision over Johnny Rini, Cleveland, in 12 rounds.

CANTON.—Tod Smith, Canton lightweight, awarded newspaper decision over Alex Simms, Akron, in 10 rounds.

WANTS FOOTBALL GAME

The Lima News is in receipt of a communication from F. W. Barber, manager of the Page Dairy Football club. Barber states that the team is a heavy one, picked from the best available players of Toledo. They want a game Nov. 11, and later dates can be arranged, by writing Fred W. Barber, 673 Oak-st, Toledo, O.

After all, nothing satisfies like a good cigar.

BUSINESS WANTS SELF STARTERS

Always Watching for Men Who Don't Require "Bossing"

PROMOTION AWAITS THEM

Forbes Cites Examples of How His Theory Works Out

(BY R. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK — (Special) — What kind of men are in the greatest demand today? Self-starters.

I often recall this little incident: I got off the elevator in J. P. Morgan & Co. office, with Harry F. Davis, who was then the leading partner in this great international banking house. Three office-boys were sitting on a bench. One of them jumped up and was standing smartly at attention as the elevator-door opened. He was ready to be instantly of service. Davis gave a nod of recognition but said nothing as we passed. But he remarked to me:

"I am always interested in watching office-boys. Whenever I notice one who is constantly on his toes, ready and eager to make himself useful, I keep my eye on him and see if it that he is given wider opportunities for the exercise of his willingness, alertness and enthusiasm. I like self-starters."

Sales managers must have as salesmen, particularly those they put on the road, self-starters.

Executives want as department heads, self-starters.

Department heads want as foremen, self-starters.

And so it goes all along the line, from top to bottom.

Therefore, the best way to increase your value and your earnings is to learn to become self-starter.

The kind of employee every concern wants is the kind who need the least amount of cranking up. It costs every large concern a great deal of money to hire managers, superintendents, department heads foremen and others whose job largely is to boss other people.

The right type of employee doesn't need to have somebody constantly watching him or prodding him to do the best and the most he is able to do. Too many employees, however, will not exert themselves unless some one is put over them to keep an eye on them constantly and to prod them up when they get lazy.

Who are the fellows who in course of time rise to be bosses?

The fellows who showed, perhaps for quite a number of years that they didn't need any bossing themselves. Any man who needs a lot of bossing to get him to go good work will never be promoted to the position of bossing others.

Perhaps you don't realize how much importance large employers attach to this ability to be a self-starter.

Nor do you know, perhaps, how much of their success must be due to their greatest business leaders owe to their having learned very early in life, when they were filling only ordinary jobs, to be self-starters.

Several things are necessary to make you a self-starter.

Your machine must be in the pink of condition if it is to start off with a moment's hesitation or spluttering. No only your body but your mind must be functioning smoothly.

For it is the mind that supplies the electric spark. Without will-power, mere body-power amounts to little.

One of the main differences between a boss and a hired man is that one is a self-starter while the other needs to be cranked up.

Every great enterprise is a monument to some self-starter.

George Eastman was the self-starter of the Eastman Kodak Co.

Charles M. Schwab was the self-starter of the mammoth Bethlehem Steel Corporation. Alexander Bell was the self-starter of the telephone, but Theodore N. Vail was in reality the self-starter of the vast Bell Telephone system of today.

John D. Rockefeller was the self-starter of Standard Oil.

Henry C. Frick was the self-starter of the greatest coke works in the world.

John H. Patterson was the self-starter of National Cash Register Co.

James B. Duke was the self-starter of the American Tobacco Co.

George Westinghouse was the self-starter of the Westinghouse enterprises.

Andrew Carnegie won his very great recognition by demonstrating that he was a self-starter. He was secretary to a Pennsylvania railroad superintendent when a smash occurred on the road. The superintendent was not on hand when the news was flashed to his office. But Carnegie was. And he began immediately to send telegraphic instructions hither and thither and had the wheels tangling straightened out promptly. He signed his orders "Scott," the name of his boss. When Scott returned and learned what had happened he asked his young clerk with assumed gravity if he didn't know that he had been guilty of forgery and a serious infraction of one of the rules of the road? But Scott shortly thereafter gave Carnegie big promotion.

AID TEACHERS IS LEIPSIC AIM

Nine Resolutions Are Adopted Seeking Co-operation

LEIPSIC—Members of the Parent-Teachers' association of Leipsic have adopted nine resolutions, seeking a better understanding between teachers of the public schools and parents.

The resolutions are:

To the effect that parents will, at all times, take the stand that the teacher is trying to do his best.

To see the good points in the teacher and to emphasize them to school youth and others.

To make conditions at home favorable for the physical, mental and moral training of the children.

To allow the children as few social distractions from study as possible and to keep them off the streets and public places.

To visit the schools often and ascertain work of teachers and pupils.

To have a friendly talk with teachers or superintendents for mistakes seem to occur, resorting as only a last measure to the board of education.

To find out if children are smoking cigarettes and to use measures to stop it and to assist in having the sale of cigarettes eradicated from the community and finally:

To make obedience to the rules of the school and home a cardinal point with parents and children.

Mrs. E. C. Kuntz, head of the Leipsic Women's Christian Temperance Union, presented the resolutions.

JURY WORKS FAST

Putnam-co Report Takes Two Days for Completion

OTTAWA—The October grand jury in Putnam-co maintained a record for short work.

Four witnesses were called, two cases were investigated and no secret cases were returned.

The small amount of work before the grand jury was due, officials say, to the large number of cases before the regular session of the May grand jury, which finished its work two weeks ago.

This was the grand jury which returned three indictments for first degree murder against Charles Shank, alleged Putnam-co murderer.

WELL EXHIBIT FOR FAIR

DRAWN WIDE ATTENTION

OTTAWA—Both the farm bureau and the health commission are revealing much of interest concerning the fair well exhibit, which was erected in front of the art hall at the Fair grounds, during the fair.

The exhibit shows the one properly called and cemented soil as to keep out all contamination and one with the top pervious loam subject to any for sign in the well survey, conducted in Monterey-tp, the wells not properly walled showed that they carried disease germs that might cause trouble.

The wells properly protected were found safe. Plans for fixing well walls to make them safe may be obtained at the farm bureau office or at the office of the Health Commissioner, J. W. Hencroth, county agricultural agent.

Can do the work and it is safer and cheaper to fix the well and to keep disease out than to eradicate it after it once reaches the family.

FINDLAY MAN TO SPEAK

AT GROVE CONVENTION

COLUMBUS GROVE—W. S. Wallen, of Findlay, president of the Hancock Sunday school association, will address the Sunday school convention, which is held Sunday night in the Presbyterian church. He formerly was superintendent of schools in Belmont, Putnam-co.

Wallen will speak at a convention of Sunday schools to be held Sunday afternoon in Vaughnsville.

21 HUNTERS LICENSES

DELPHOS—Township Clerk N. C. Miller has issued just 21 hunters' licenses for the coming season.

Sept. 15, Mr. Miller says there is not so much demand for licenses for the squirrel season as there will be before the rabbit season, which opens Nov. 15. He is looking for a rush of hunters next month.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

OTTAWA—Real estate transfers in Putnam-co, while numerous, embracing both town and farm lands, does not bear record of any large transactions.

THEATERS

Banner. "Patriotic music," said this man, "has no place on an artistic program."

But on all his programs this year the opening number is the Tannhauser overture, of Wagner.

And those who have heard the great band master before, know that he always features one popular song at least. This year it will be one of the big hits from the Follies transposed in the way in which Strauss, only can transpose. Then there will be Sousa marches.

Sousa and his band of almost 100 pieces, besides ten or twelve soloists, will play at Memorial hall on Wednesday, October 24.

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

MUTT AND JEFF—JEFF FLASHES THE DISTRESS SIGNAL OF THE LION TAMERS—

BRINGING UP FATHER—

SHORT SHAVINGS

The man who says America has no folk lore has not read Roy Haynes' story of enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment.

One advantage of having menus in French is that when one thing runs out, something else can be served in its place and no one will know the difference.

Following the reading of the annual budget in a certain Allen-co church it is reported the chorister asked the congregation to sing Hymn 626, "Come, Ye Discouraged."

O is for orange.
So juicy and yellow—
A ball of real sunshine;
It's good for a fellow!
—Chicago News.

A point in their favor—
"It's easy to buy 'em."
"Yes, Ma'am," says the pedlar,
"Today we supply 'em."
—Chicago Tribune.

They come from the South
And they come from the West
Can tell which is best.

Most men lead their brides to the altar but after that the wife generally does the leading.

While wild life is practically extinct on Allen-co farms, Chief T. A.

Lanker informs us there is plenty to be found in some automobile parties.

The man next door rises to ask why girls always act so sleepy after they have staged a slumber party.

No one seems to be feeling bad because Lima has no daylight, obtained thru daylight saving, to fall back on now that shorter days have come.

Our idea of a pathetic figure is the man who gets sick after having eaten a barrel of apples trying to keep the doctor away.

They were approaching a tunnel. "When we are in this tunnel I'll kiss you," said the young man to the woman stranger beside him in the seat.

"Sir," she replied. "I'm a lady."

"Sure. If I wanted to kiss a man I'd call the conductor."

B. C. Forbes says every man to be successful must be equipped with a self-starter and must use it. Didn't he overlook brakes-on-all-wheels and non-skid chains?

"Lloyd George says George Washington saved the British," newspaper headlines. In other words Britain early learned to "let George do it," even if they did get tired of letting the modern George do it. At any rate we suppose we Georges must stick together.
